Accreditation Update

We have completed our virtual site visit with the national accreditation board known as the Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB). This is the last step on our journey to becoming a nationally accredited health department. Our site visit team consisted of two public health officials from various parts of the country as well as one representative from the accrediting board. We received very positive feedback about our health department and public health initiatives. The accreditation board will convene in March 2022 to make a decision in regards to our accreditation status and next steps. We look forward to their site visit report and decision.
